OHSAS 18001:2007
Self Assessment Checklist

S003, Issue 3, October 2012

This document restates the requirements of OHSAS18001:2007 for Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems (OHSMS) and has been developed to assist NCSI and its clients in the assessment of for Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems for compliance with OHSAS18001:2007.

This checklist presents the requirements of OHSAS18001:2007 as questions and can be used as an effective tool for implementing the Occupational Health and Safety Management System and for self-assessment of the system.

4.6 MANAGEMENT REVIEW ......................................................................................... 19
4.1 GENERAL REQUIREMENTS - SCOPE OF CERTIFICATION

What is the scope of the Occupational Health and Safety management system and what scope is being assessed for certification?

Does it include those hazards and risks which you can control or over which you could be expected to have an influence upon?

Is the scope of the OHS management system defined and formally documented within your organisation’s OHS management system (OHSMS) documentation?

Are there activities that are excluded from the scope of the OHS management system and are the reasons for exclusion acceptable?

4.2 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

Has top management defined and authorised your organisation’s OH&S policy?

- Is the policy consistent with the scope of the OH&S management system?
  - Is the policy appropriate to the nature, scale and OH&S risks in your activities, products or services?
  - What commitment does your policy make to continual improvement?
  - What commitment does your policy make to the prevention of injury and ill health in the workplace?
  - Does the OH&S policy include a commitment to comply with applicable OH&S legislation and regulations, and with other requirements to which you subscribe that relate to your OH&S hazards (e.g. industry sector guidelines)?
  - Does the policy provide the framework for setting and reviewing OH&S objectives?
  - Is the OH&S policy documented, implemented and maintained?
  - How is the policy communicated to all persons working under the control of the organization?
  - How is the policy made available to the interested parties?
  - Is the policy reviewed at regular intervals and what triggers will result in the review to be undertaken by the organisation?
4.3 PLANNING

4.3.1 Hazard Identification, risk assessment and determining controls.

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure for the ongoing identification of hazards, assessment of their risk and determining the necessary controls?

How do the procedures for hazard identification and risk assessment:-

- a) Take into account the routine and non-routine activities of the organisation?
- b) Take into account the activities of all persons accessing the workplace including contractors and visitors?
- c) Take into account the human behaviour, capabilities and other human factors?
- d) Take into account the identified hazards including those that may originate from outside the workplace that are capable of adversely affecting the health and safety of persons under the control of the organisation within the workplace?
- e) Take into account the hazards created in the vicinity of the workplace by work-related activities under the control of the organisation?

(Note that these hazards may need to be assessed as an environmental aspect—refer to the ISO14001 checklist section 4.3.1)?

- f) Take into account how the infrastructure, equipment and materials at the workplace from all sources affect the organisation?
- g) Take into account the changes or proposed changes to the organization, its activities or materials?
- h) Take into account how modifications to the OH&S system, whether they be temporary or not, impact on the operations, processes and activities of the organisation?
- i) Take into account any applicable legal obligations relating to risk assessment and the implementation of controls?
- j) Take into account the effects of the design of work areas, processes, installations, machinery/equipment, operating procedures and work organisations, including their adaptation to human capabilities?

Note: it does not imply that these people are required to have a legal qualification but a fundamental understanding of their duty with respect to the areas communicated to them by the organisation.
4.3.3 Objectives & Programme(s)

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained documented OH&S objectives?

Have these been established at relevant functions and levels within the organisation?

Has your organisation established, implemented & maintained a programme(s) for achieving its objectives?

Are the objectives measurable (where practical) and consistent with the OH&S policy including the commitments to:

- prevention of injury and ill health?
- compliance with legal and other requirements including those it subscribes to?
- continual improvement?

When setting your objectives how do you take into account:

- legal and other requirements including those it subscribes to?
- its OH&S risks?
- its technological options?
- its financial, operational and business requirements?
- the views of relevant interested parties?

Who is responsible and authorised at the different levels of your organisation for implementing the programme(s)?

What are the means and timeframes for achieving the different objectives?

How does your organisation ensure that programme(s) are amended as a result of new developments, new or modified activities, products and services?

Has your organisation set planned intervals to review and adjust the objectives so that they are achieved?
4.4 IMPLEMENTATION AND OPERATION

4.4.1 Resources, roles, responsibility, accountability & authority

How does your organisation demonstrate that the ultimate responsibility for OH&S and the OH&S management system lies with the Top Management?

Does the Top Management demonstrate its commitment by:

a) ensuring that resources essential to establishing, maintaining and improving the OH&S Management system are available?
   - Do these resources include:
     - human resources?
     - specialised skills?
     - organisational infrastructure?
     - technology?
     - financial resources?

b) How are the roles, responsibility, accountabilities and authorities defined, documented and communicated in order to achieve effective OH&S management?

Has your organisation appointed a member(s) from Top Management with specific responsibilities and defined roles and authority for:

a) ensuring that the OH&S management system is established, implemented and maintained in accordance with the OHSAS18001 standard?

b) ensuring that reporting on the performance of the OH&S management system is presented to Top Management for review and used as the basis to identify improvements to the OH&S management system.

Note: That the Top Management appointee (under some circumstances) may delegate some of their OH&S duties to subordinate management representative(s), but cannot delegate the OH&S accountabilities.

4.4.2 Competence, training and awareness

How does your organisation ensure that all persons working for them, or under their control (e.g. staff, contractors, shift workers, casual staff, labour hire etc), are competent to undertake the tasks that can impact on OH&S?

Note: Assessment of competence can be on the basis of appropriate education, training and/or experience.

OHSAS 18001 REQUIREMENTS

4.4.4 Documentation System

Does your organisation’s OH&S management system documentation include:

- the OH&S policy, objectives?
- a description of the scope of the OH&S management system?
- a description of the main elements of the OH&S management system, their interaction and reference to related documents?
- documents and records required by the Standard?
- Documents, including records, necessary for the effective planning, operation and control of processes related to its OH&S risks?

How is this maintained?

Note: the level of documentation will depend on the complexity, hazards and risks in your organisation in order for the system to be effective and efficient.

4.4.5 Control of documents

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s) for controlling all documents required by this OHSAS 18001 standard?

Does the procedure address:

- (a) Who approves the documents for adequacy before they are issued?
- (b) how they are periodically reviewed, updated and re-approved as necessary?
- (c) how changes and the current revision status are identified?
- (d) How current versions of relevant documents are made available at points of use?
- (e) How the legibility and identification of the documents is ensured?
- (f) How external documents, as determined by the organisation to be necessary for the planning and operation of the safety management system are identified and their distribution controlled?
- (g) How to prevent obsolete documents against unintended use, and apply suitable identification to them if they are retained for any purpose?

4.4.6 Operational Control

How has your organisation determined the operations and activities that are associated with the identified hazard(s) and implementation of controls is necessary to manage the OH&S risk(s). Has the management of change been included (4.3.1)?

From the identified hazard(s) and OH&S risk(s) has your organization implemented and maintained:

a) operational controls, as applicable to your organisation and its activities?

b) integrated operational controls into its OH&S management system?

c) controls related to purchased goods, equipment and services?

d) controls related to contractors and other visitors to the workplace?

e) documented procedures, to cover situations where their absence could lead to deviations from the OH&S policy and the OH&S objectives?

f) stipulated operating criteria where their absence could lead to deviations from the OH&S policy and OH&S objectives?

How are the above procedure(s) maintained?
OHSAS 18001 REQUIREMENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>4.4.7 Emergency Preparedness and Response</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s):</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a) to identify the potential emergency situations?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b) and to response to such emergency situations?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Does the procedure(s) cover how your organisation will respond to actual emergency situations?

Does the procedure(s) cover how your organisation will prevent or mitigate the associated adverse OH&S consequences?

How does your organisation plan its emergency response and does it take into account the needs of relevant interested parties?

Note: this can include emergency services, neighbours, visitors, media crews, delivery vehicles, electricity, gas and water suppliers, etc.

How does your organisation test these procedure(s) to be able to respond to these emergency situations and, where practicable, do you involve relevant interested parties? (see above for some interested parties).

Is this testing, above, periodically undertaken and at what intervals?

Does your organisation periodically review, revise and update its emergency preparedness and response procedure(s) after the completion of the scheduled test and after the occurrence of an emergency situation, where necessary? (see 4.5.3).
4.5 CHECKING

4.5.1 Performance Measurement and Monitoring

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s) to monitor and measure OH&S performance, on a regular basis and does the procedure(s) provide for

(a) both qualitative and quantitative measures, as appropriate for your organisation needs?
(b) monitoring of the extent to which your organisation’s OH&S objectives are met?
(c) monitoring the effectiveness of controls for both health and safety?
(d) proactive measures of performance that monitor the conformance with your OH&S programme(s), controls and operational criteria?
(e) reactive measures of performance that monitor ill health, incidents, accidents, near misses, potential incidents, etc and other historical evidence of deficient OH&S performance?
(f) recording of data and results of monitoring and measurement sufficient to assist in the analysis of corrective and preventative action(s).

How is monitoring and measuring equipment calibrated or verified and maintained (procedure)?

Are calibration or verification records retained?

4.5.2 Evaluation of compliance

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s) for periodically evaluating its compliance with the applicable legal and other requirements identified in clause 4.3.2 of this standard?

Has your organisation evaluated its compliance with other requirements identified in clause 4.3.2 of this standard?

Are the records of the results of these periodic evaluations maintained?

Note: the frequency of the periodic evaluation may vary for legal and other requirements which your organisation may subscribe to.
4.5.3 Incident Investigation, Non-conformity, Corrective & Preventive Action

4.5.3.1 Incident Investigation

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s) to record, investigate and analyse incidents:
   a) in order to determine any underlying OH&S deficiencies and other factors that might be causing or contributing to the occurrence of incidents?
   b) in order to identify the need for corrective action
   c) in order to identify opportunities for preventative action and continual improvement
   d) in order to communicate the results of the investigation.

Does your organisation undertake these investigations in a timely manner?
(Note: You may also want to define what your organisation considers timely).

Does your organisation use the Non-conformity, Corrective & Preventive Action system to deal with any actions? (see 4.5.3.2).

4.5.3.2 Non-conformity, Corrective & Preventive Action

Has your organisation established, implemented and maintained a procedure(s) for:
   (a) dealing with actual and potential non-conformities, and
   (b) corrective and preventive action?

Do your procedures define requirements for:
   (a) identifying and correcting non-conformities and taking action to mitigate the resulting OH&S consequences?
   (b) Investigating the non-conformities, determining their causes and take action to avoid their recurrence?
   (c) Evaluating the need for actions to be taken to prevent non-conformities, and implementing appropriate actions?
   (d) Recording the results of corrective and preventive actions taken?
   (e) Reviewing the effectiveness of corrective and preventive actions?

</tbody>
</table>
4.5.5 Internal Audit

Has your organisation planned, established, implemented and maintained a programme and procedure(s) for periodic internal audits to be conducted?

Do these internal audits determine whether or not the OH&S management system:

(a) conforms to planned arrangements for OH&S management including the requirements of this standard, and

(b) has been properly implemented and maintained?

(c) is effective in meeting your organisation's policy and objectives?

How does the audit programme take into account the OH&S risk assessments of your organisation's concerns, and the results of previous audits?

How does your organisation provide information on the results of audits to management?

Does the audit procedure cover:

(a) the responsibilities, competencies, and requirements for planning and conducting audits, reporting results and retention of associated records?

(b) The determination of audit criteria, scope, frequency and methods?

How is the competency of the OH&S auditors used determined?

How does the selection of auditors and the conduct of audits ensure objectivity and impartiality of the audit process?
4.6 MANAGEMENT REVIEW

Has your organisation’s top management (at planned intervals) reviewed the OH&S management system, to ensure its continuing suitability, adequacy and effectiveness?

Does the review include assessing opportunities for improvement and the need for changes to the OH&S Management System, including the OH&S policy and OH&S objectives?

Do the inputs to management review include:

(a) results from internal audits and evaluations of compliance with legal and other requirements?

(b) the results of participation and consultation?

(c) relevant communication from external parties, including complaints?

(d) the OH&S performance of your organisation?

(e) the extent to which the objectives have been met?

(f) the status of incident investigations, corrective and preventive actions

(g) follow-up actions from previous management reviews

(h) changing circumstances, including developments in legal and other requirements related to OH&S and

(i) recommendations for improvement?

Do the outputs from the management review include decisions and actions related to possible changes to the OH&S policy, objectives, resources, OH&S performance and other elements of the OH&S management system, and consistent with the commitment to continual improvement?

Are the records of the management reviews retained and made available for communication and consultation?
